Endoscopic Ultrasound

Qualifications

Membership	To be eligible to apply for endoscopic ultrasound privileges, the physician must have privileges in the Section of Gastroenterology and be a member in good standing of the hospital medical staff.
Education/Training	Successful completion of an accredited gastroenterology fellowship program which included endoscopic ultrasound training. A letter of support from the program director which includes verification of both training and competence in performing 100 supervised endoscopic ultrasounds is required. If fellowship completed less than 24 months prior to application, the applicant must also provide documentation of an average of 25 endoscopic ultrasounds per 12-month period, or portion thereof, since completion of fellowship training. OR If fellowship completed greater than 24 months prior to application, must provide an average of 25 endoscopic annually for the last 24 months and provide statement of verification of competency from those hospitals or ambulatory surgery center where performing. If no completed fellowship training and has unrestricted privileges for endoscopic ultrasound at another CMS accredited hospital(s) or ambulatory surgery center, the physician must provide 25 endoscopic ultrasounds annually for last 24 months which the physician was the primary physician performing the procedure and provide statement of verification of competency from those hospitals or ambulatory care center where performing. If the physician is unable to provide the requested average number of cases, must have minimum of 5 proctored endoscopic ultrasound examinations with a physician credentialed in endoscopic ultrasound examination. If proctor deems physician skill set sufficient after 5 cases, may proceed unsupervised once full privileges are approved through the credentialing process.
Clinical Experience (Reappointment)	In order to maintain endoscopic ultrasound privileges, documentation of a minimum of 50 endoscopic ultrasound examinations over the most recent 24-month period is required. While these examinations may be performed at another institution, submission of examination reports is required for validation. If the physician fails to meet the maintenance case load, he/she must repeat 5 supervised/proctored cases, until again deemed proficient.
